

In this exhibition is a picture called Anecdotes which is a collection of events we came across on our travels.

We have put all the stories in the same landscape; they share a horizon.

Do you have stories of your own that you could put in one picture? Perhaps favourite things or things you've seen on the way here.

This horizon line is only a suggestion. It could be changed, added to, or ignored ...

Use the spaces in this guide to respond to the different artworks you find in the gallery. What you fill them with is up to you.
