Problems at home and a lack of support with his autism led to Matthew being sectioned aged 17. He spent the next 16 years locked in hospital settings, away from family and deprived of his liberty. Now living happily in his own home, Matthew's story is not only a testament to what can be achieved when the right support is put in place, but a poignant reflection on barriers and injustices experienced by thousands of other people trying to leave hospital. Read Hospital to Home: Matthew's Story (2022).

Tat Vision is a multi-media artist who blends a lo-fi shabby chic aesthetic into all his works and performances. Tat Vision engages in a variety of mediums such as papier-mâché, felt tips and second-hand materials to create a surreal and lighthearted experience.

Foka Wolf has created his subversive art for over a decade, mixing serious social and political commentary with lots of humour. For the past five years, his satirical adverts have popped up in inner-city areas of Birmingham, London and Manchester. With a reputation for "brandalism", Foka Wolf's posters address global issues of police brutality, climate change, corporate greed, workers' rights and the housing crisis.
