

9 FEBRUARY - 21 APRIL 2024

Art
EXPLORER

1/

START THE PRESS!

EXODUS CROOKS EPIPHANY (TEMPORAIRE)

2/

IKON/60

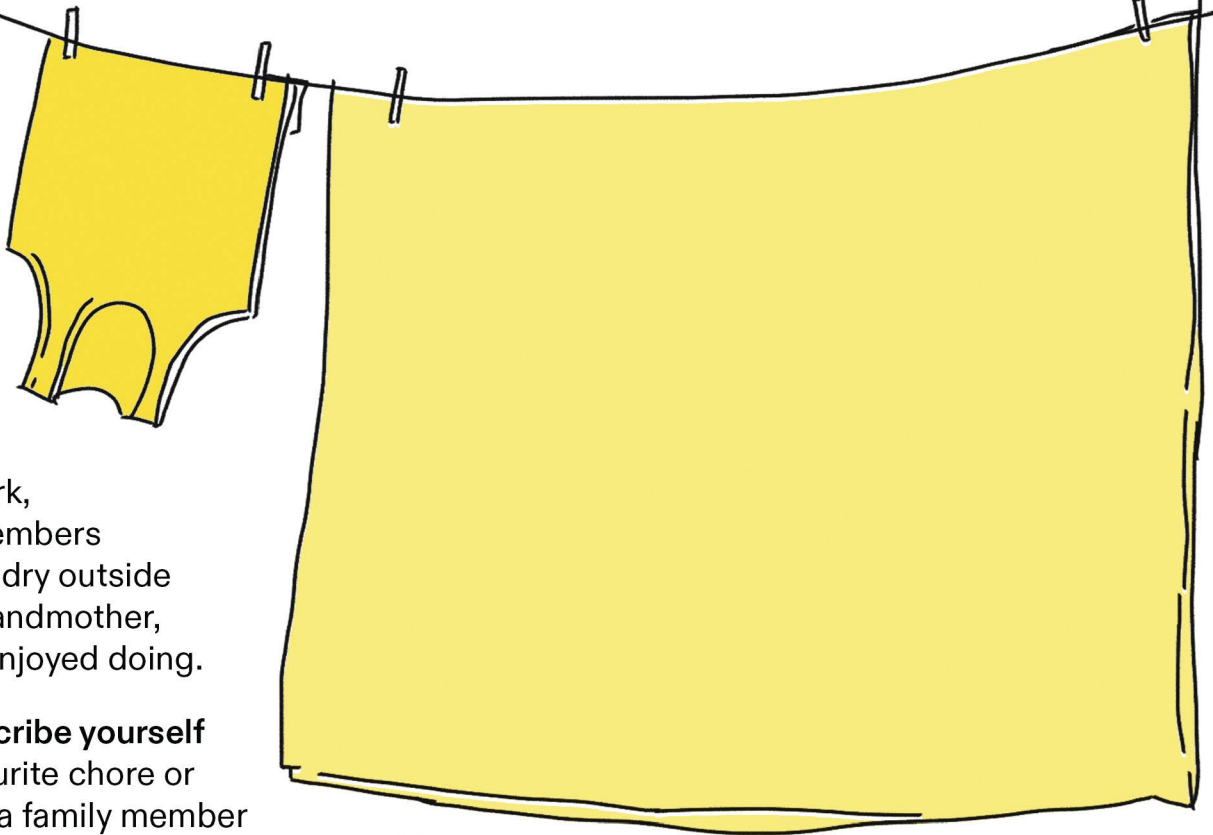

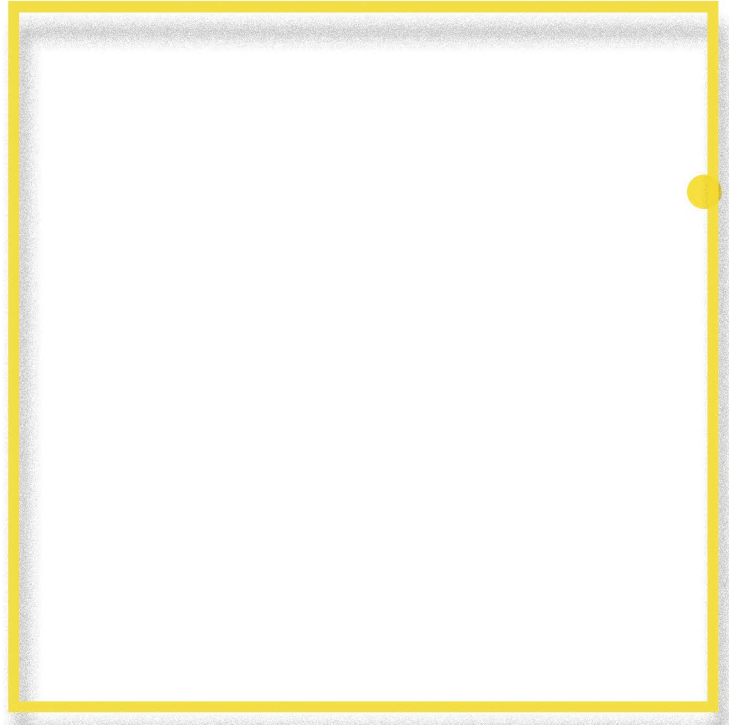

Please consider making a donation for this free resource.

1/ START THE PRESS!

What is the ship in Yinka Shonibare's print called?
Draw and colour one of the sails.

In the 1800s, this printing press was used to create nautical maps of the land and sea. Where is its current home and who uses it?

In this artwork, Exodus remembers hanging laundry outside with their grandmother, which they enjoyed doing.

Draw or describe yourself doing a favourite chore or activity with a family member

Can you guess what materials all the different slingshots are made from?

2/ EXODUS CROOKS EPIPHANY (TEMPORAIRE)

Ikon Family Activities

Ikon hosts a wide range of creative activities, led by artists, for families and other groups.

Visit ikon-gallery.org for the latest events and activities, further information on our educational offer and to make a group or school booking.

Did you know?

Wolverhampton School of Art first opened in 1851.

In 1970, it opened its iconic modernist building, including a print studio with a pair of antique printing presses.

The Blk Art Group formed at Wolverhampton School of Art in 1979.

This was a group of young Black artists who raised questions about what Black art was, its identity and what it could become in the future.

 Share your creations with @ikongallery

Ikon Gallery
1 Oozells Square
Brindleyplace
Birmingham
B1 2HS

+44 (0)121 248 0708
ikon-gallery.org

Open Wednesday - Sunday
11am-5pm
Free entry, donations welcome

Cover:
Wolverhampton School of Art
Image courtesy @BlackCountryType

David Prentice
Flamsteed (1967)
Image courtesy Ikon

Cover/ inside
Exodus Crooks
Y: the symbol of man (2023)
Image courtesy the artist

Exodus Crooks
Doing Duties for Miss Dell (2023)
Image courtesy the artist

Please consider making a donation for this free resource. Ikon is a registered charity and your support helps us with everything we do.

Ikon is supported using public funding by the National Lottery through Arts Council England, and Birmingham City Council.

Ikon Gallery Limited trading as Ikon.
Registered Charity no.528892.

IKON/60

